what is the remedy?"
The next meeting will be the annual meeting of the club and will be held with Rev. Mr. Munson, pastor of the Methodist church of Buckfield.

lawn. She was kindly remembered by many little tokens of friendship.

"Wanted, a Family."
At the Opera House, Monday evening, the Gilbert & Allyn Stock Co. will produce that farcical absurdity, "Wanted, a Family."
It comes bearing the reputation of a farce far above the average in its ability to amuse, and enacted by this management to be a great success, destroyer, sidesplitting laugh provoker and a sure cure for the blues.

MAY 23, 1902, NORWAY AND SOUTH PARIS, MAINE.

Bridgton High vs. Norway High.
Saturday afternoon, May 17th, Norway High team met the Bridgton High team on the Fair Grounds. This was the second game with the today evening at Dunbar-land county. The first game was played in Bridgton. In both games Norway has won. The two teams were not evenly matched Saturday, and the game was interesting except in the first inning, when an aggregation of men from Bethel were much in evidence. The attendance was good and the crowd was entertained by the cheering of the supporters of Norway, Paris and Bethel teams. The musical spectacle of four ball teams was to be seen.
The home team played good ball most of the time, though they grew careless as they found the metal of their opponents. The Bridgton boys are good, manly fellows, but ball playing is not their stronghold. They had no team work. The game was not one characterized by great batting. For the most part errors were responsible for the runners' progress beyond first base.
Following is the score by innings: 1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 Bridgton..... 0 0 0 0 2 0 0 2-4 Norway..... 0 5 0 0 0 1 0 1-3 Next Saturday, the 24th, the high school boys go to Bethel to play the return game with Gould Academy. The game will be contested by both teams, and will be worth seeing. Special rates on the railroad. It is rumored that several lovers of the sport are going.

What Happened to Brown?
"What Did Happen to Brown?" would be an appropriate title for the piece to be produced, Tuesday evening, at the Opera House by the Gilbert & Allyn Stock Co. for every conceivable mix up it seems to have the supernatural skill to get into.
He is mistaken for a lawyer, friend and clerk and by the time he is proven not guilty of any of them, he finds himself in a pinch to actually tell who he is.
"This is a comedy pure and simple with more complications attached than is generally the case with pieces of this nature."
Arthur Penley of Auburn and A. Bon-neman of Norway left, Tuesday, for a fishing trip to Rangely.
Tom Smith, who has been living in Arthur Hebbard's rent on Tucker street, will move into the widow Smith's rent on Deering street.
Mrs. Joseph Lebrooke and two children of Oxford, formerly of Norway, are spending the week with Alfred A. Everett, jr., and family.
The Spanish-American War Veterans held a meeting Tuesday evening and made arrangements for attending the Memorial Day observances.
The Prohibitionists will hold a caucus Saturday evening at 7.30 o'clock, at the Methodist vestry to choose delegates to the State Convention at Bath.

Marie Harmon of Mechanic Falls visited their uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Geo.
F. Hathaway, one day last week.
Walter Cole of Tilton, N. H., is working in A. J. Nevins' store. Elmer Frost, who was formerly employed there, has enlisted in the United States Navy.
Mrs. C. F. Ridlon has got a pretty black looking eye. She and the wash boiler in the kitchen had a slight misunderstanding one dark night. She fell over the boiler and the woodbox hit her in the eye.

have been visiting their sister Bertha in Portland, N. H., have returned home partner, has taken a position in the Mooselucmaguic House, situated on the lake of the same name.

science work in Attleboro high school for the past three years, has been engaged for another year. We understand he is much liked there as a teacher.
Rev. C. C. Phelan of Lewiston delivered a very interesting sermon at the Methodist church Sunday morning.
Mr. Phelan is a very interesting speaker and is spoken of in the highest terms wherever he delivers a sermon or an address.
A reunion of the A. Everett family was held, Sunday, on the old home place near the Norway-Watford line. There known as the Weston place. There were quite a number of the family and their descendants present and the day was a very happy one.
Glady's, the nine year old daughter of Arthur W. Frost, met with a bad accident last Saturday afternoon. As she was riding her bicycle in South Paris, she fell, breaking her right arm just below the elbow. Physicians attended her and she is comfortable.
Supt. W. J. Jones of the Oxford Light Company has his new office finished and it is one of the prettiest in town (if not in the county). The office belongs to the Oxford Light Company, instead of the Norway & Paris Street Railway, as we stated recently. Supt. Jones very emphatically impressed this fact on us when we called there recently.
The closing supper and entertainment for the season, given by the ladies of the Congregational society will be held, Tuesday evening, May 27th. Friends from Norway Lake will give the entertainment, which will consist of an Oriental wedding ceremony in high life, arranged as a costume pantomime set to music. All ladies of the society are requested to assist and bring food without fail to notice.
Della Noyes met with a sad mishap at the wharf, Sunday. A party was waiting at the wharf and Gurney's landing was up to the cottages among on the wharf were Miss Noyes. She started to walk around the boats lying on the wharf and getting near the edge lost her balance and fell in. She was quickly "fished" out and came to her home, where she at once changed into dry clothing and joined the party later in the afternoon none the worse for her unexpected bath.

from June 1st until Sept. 13th.

vention at Bethel from Norway were born, Jessie Dinsmore, Clyde Weston, Annie Laforriere, Corvally Wood, Hattie Cragin, Gertrude Gardner, Mercy Millett, Kate Towne, Bessie Towne and Mae Merrill.

nesday afternoon, with Mrs. Frank Danforth. A week from next Wednesday, will be held and it is earnestly desired that as many as possible will be present.

iel Gunnison was pastor of the Universalist church, will deliver the memorial address at the first church at Bath.
Fred Proctor, who was formerly employed on the local street railway and lately has worked in the sled factory in South Paris, has secured a position with the street railway in Saratoga, N. Y.

with Alton Curtis and family in North Paris until Mr. Proctor gets settled in New York when she will join him.

preme Governor of United Order Pilgrim quested to be present. Refreshments will be served.

Rev. C. E. Angell will preach at the provisional sermon to the graduating class of the Norway high school, Sunday afternoon, June 1st. Many of the townpeople wish to attend the service and it will be held in the afternoon that it may not interfere with the school. As the services of their own denomination, The subject of the sermon will be "Supremacy of Character." Jonathan Bartlett of Stoneham was in Norway Monday. He said the big overcast fire in Albany burned over about 2,000 acres of timber land. A large number of men fought the fire and it was then thought to be under control.
He had about 500 acres burned. The fire caught on the Paris Manufacturing Company's land just how caught there is some difference of opinion.
The "Pennessewassee" has finished the work of hauling logs from the head of the lake to Cummings' mill at the outlet and been repaid for the summer's passenger traffic.
The fire on the lake and who will use the boat nights and mornings during the summer and then set the time. Trips will probably be made oftener this season than formerly as the "Henrietta" is to make several trips instead of the larger steamer.
F. H. Noyes, W. C. Leavitt and F. W.
Sanborn started for Ketchum, Minn., Monday morning, May 19th, about four o'clock. They started early so to be sure of getting there. They stop at Camp Brockton while there and devote the most of the time to fishing. When a Ketchum party is in camp a stormy always be expected and this was no exception. Before noon Monday our drought of several weeks had broken and the gentle rain was falling softly on the dusty earth and the Ketchum party on route by team. It howled and off and on they had to leave. They expected to return Thursday.

Good Fishing Grounds.
James True and George R. Stephenson caught sixteen salmon from 1 1/2 to 2 pounds, and a trout weighing 2 1/2 pounds in Oronout pond, Greenwood, the first of the week. Going to the pond the canoe used by the two men had to be carried about two miles.
Monday K. C. Gurney and his brother Robert went to the same pond and caught eight salmon averaging about the same size as the others. There is no outlet to the brook or practically none, with the exception of a very small brook.
The latter parties brought out the canoe which had been left there for their use. Mr. Stephenson thinks he will take a boat to the lake over the snow next March and leave it there permanently.

MEMORIAL SERVICES.
Memorial services were held last Sabbath at the Universalist church. There was a large gathering and the church prano; Fannie Whitman and Mrs. Annie Bethel, last Friday, accompanied by a number of "rooters," and in a game with Gould Academy lost the game by a score of 10 to 9. Work on the part of Bethel's umpire is ascribed by the Paris boys as the cause of their failure. However that may have been the defeat was wiped out the next day (Saturday) when the Academy team played the P.

H. S. on the Fair Grounds. The score of Friday's game at Bethel was as follows:

Small pox has struck Hallowell.
They have a number of cases and are fearful that they may have more.

It has been a source of amusement to my many camp visitors, when, after the greeting and laying aside of the pack, I remarked, "Now, no shooting, no noise about camp, please." But when in the early evening, I would step to the door and "Ho-ho-boho," until I had called up several owls, varying in size from a little screech owl to a great horned owl, and with voices corresponding in volume to their size, they would apparently try to converse with me; or after awhile, getting tired of this, I would imitate the cry of a loon and shortly have the satisfaction of tolling him right into the cove in front of the camp, then, and only then, could my hunting companions appreciate my wishes. And ever afterward they would be most thoughtful when I explained to them my views and how I had even thrown down in corners cold winter weathknown deer in severe cold winter weather, to jump out of their yards, find the tote or logging roads and seek the hovel for food and shelter, and after having been fed and petted by the men, it was almost impossible to get rid of them. It is royal sport to hunt, but no man wants to be such a brute as to take life wantonly. If you enjoyed the hunt, and can utilize the spoils, well and good. But never in a wanton manner, take the life of that which, when hard pushed by either hunger or danger, will flee to man

But alas! every rule has its exception, and one fall I had some animal companions that, for awhile, had considerable fun at my expense. On my hunting trips of late years, I have always pur-phased a return trip ticket over the railroad. Attached to this ticket are four coupons, two to be detached on the trip up, and the remaining two, with the ticket, to remain intact until the return trip. On my arrival in camp, one of the first things that I always attended to was my ticket. For safety against loss and wear, I invariably hid it in the bottom of an old-fashioned, wooden clock, which rested on a wooden shelf attached to one of the logs about two-thirds of the distance from the front, the cable

On one of my trips and after I had been in camp a month, as I lay in my bunk listening to the "ho-ho-hoho" of an owl, I thought that I heard a scraping kind of noise, somewhere in the region of the clock. But thinking it might possibly clock. But thinking it might possibly be a squirrel on the outside of the camp, I turned over and dropped asleep. In the morning, while getting breakfast, I again heard the same noise, and this time it was surely in or behind the clock. So, stepping quickly forward, I opened the door of the clock, when, in the twinkling of an eye, out popped four mice. Did I try to catch them? No. Did I slam the door of the clock for fear of more mice? Yes. Four insignificant mice making a bee line for one's face, apparently, will cause a man more fear, more thrashing of arms, more shuffling of feet, than the charge of an old buck moose. And I know it for I have had to face them both. And so I say, as one having authority, give me the

After I became thoroughly convinced that there were no more mice, I again opened the clock door. The first thing that attracted my attention was a knot-surely, had proved to be an open door. In the bottom and on one side was as pretty a nest as I ever saw built by a humming bird, but alas! it was built out of my railroad ticket and cotton from my comforters. On the other side from my comforters. On the other side of the bottom of the clock was a good winter's supply of beechnuts, buds, etc. To say that I had any hesitancy in breaking up that happy home would be wrong—for I didn't. Gathering a few small pieces of that ticket—and these were small ones, I assure you—I enclosed them with the facts of the case to the railroad manager and he very kindly sent me a return pass.

My experiences in the woods and with wild animals have not only been instruc-ive, but most pleasant, and as I look back over a period of over 30 seasons of hunting and fishing, it is most gratifying to me to assert that, although having killed much, never with but, one exception has a pound of it ever been wasted.

Deafness Cannot be Cured

Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube gets inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for Circulars, free.

BETHEL.

Oxford Co. Teachers' Convention.

Gould Academy, Friday and Saturday, was a scene of much beauty and knowledge. The school teachers and school marmas met here in conference. It was one of the best attended of the annual sessions.

A jolly party went up the line last Friday morning, from Oxford, Paris, Buckfield, Norway, and stations above. The Rumford and Mexico teachers came in a hundred or more visiting teachers. Prof. F. E. Hanscom of Gould is president. The exercises were opened by singing American, Alice Billings, pianist. Invocation, Rev. Charles N. Gleason, pastor of Bethel Congregational church. Address of Welcome, Supt. W. H. Hastings of Bethel; response, Supt. Payson Smith of Rumford Falls. Then a business session and dinner served by the Woman's Relief Corps in Garland Chapel where about 100 were seated at the tables.

In the afternoon Payson Smith gave a talk on "Advantages to be derived from the School Improvement League." A paper read by Agnes Sanborn of Norway had a lot of original ideas and methods. Her aim has been to make geography mean something, to make it alive and interesting to the average pupil, and much favorable comment was bestowed upon the paper and the ideas advanced. An interesting discussion followed.

H. B. Bryant of Waterville spoke on many things. He has had a large practical experience in the schoolroom. He emphasized the development of character and individuality in the pupil. Hattie M. Leach of South Paris gave an illustrated talk on "Busy Work for Primary Scholars." The way she treated her subject showed the thorough knowledge of a successful teacher in this branch.

Principal A. M. Rollins of Norway opened the discussion of the question, "Are the College Requirements too difficult for our High Schools?" This was considered at length by the others present.

Prin. Rollins, speaking on the question whether or not college requirements in mathematics are too difficult, showed the amount of work done in algebra and geometry in Norway high school in comparison with the requirements, and believed the requirements were not too difficult for a school year of thirty-four weeks and a four years course.

The question box was conducted by Prof. F. E. Hanscom. Pres. C. L. White of Colby gave a lecture in the evening to a large and interested audience on "The Endowment of a Teacher."

We have not heard a more pleasing speaker. He considered it under three heads, spiritual, intellectual and physical. His address was vivid with figures and fresh with illustrations of personal interest. He had the close attention of a large audience in the Congregational church for an hour and a quarter.

Saturday the following officers were elected for the ensuing year:

Pres.—Prof. F. E. Hanscom, Bethel. Vice-Pres.—Principal C. W. Cary, Rumford. Sec.—Mrs. Jane H. Gibson, Bethel. Ex. Com.—Supt. C. F. Barnes, Norway; Eva Gray, South Paris; Miss Irving R. Hawkes, Mexico.

Mrs. John Gehring of Bethel gave a paper on "The Ideal Teacher from the Parent's Point of View," and Rev. P. E. Barton of Bethel Universalist church, gave additional suggestions on the same subject. Mrs. Eugene Vandenberg, education teacher at Gould's, made a talk on "The Ideal Teacher from the Parent's Point of View," and Rev. P. E. Barton of Bethel Universalist church, gave additional suggestions on the same subject. Mrs. Eugene Vandenberg, education teacher at Gould's, made a talk on "The Ideal Teacher from the Parent's Point of View," and Rev. P. E. Barton of Bethel Universalist church, gave additional suggestions on the same subject.

The delightful weather, the natural hospitality of the Bethel people and the varied program, all went to make the convention the most pleasant one by far in recent years.

The next session will be in September, Friday and Saturday, the 26th and 27th, at Norway. As long as it is going to be at Norway we feel free to suggest to you that you make out the program that he make out one big enough to fill the time of the two days allotted, full of good things that teachers are interested in in their daily work. If our Oxford county teachers tell of all the new things they learn, every four months, they can easily do this. If any of the teachers want to go out and view the Norway scenery they can do it while some of their brother and sister teachers are telling what they know, and in turn these can go out when they have the hour, just "chance work." By all means have the program full enough to take up the very last moments and have the best for the last.

A fine buck deer took a thirty minute caper through one village, last Saturday noon, taking in our principal streets, also grazing on J. M. Philbrook's lawn and finally landed in H. C. Andrews' hand and not seeming disposed to jump the wire fence again. Mr. Andrews kindly took down a portion and let him out. The deer, or another, had been seen several times recently outside the village.

Better Roads, Taxes, etc.

The following was written by the late Joseph W. Holden, the well known astronomer of Otisfield. These are his ideas, just as he wrote them.

I will tell you how to have them put in better men to repair roads if you have them, men of brain, men of observation, by-the-way observation is the greatest teacher we have. Put in men to repair your roads who believe water runs down hill and will wash the gravel down hill.
Those that believe the earth is a globe must believe that water runs up hill and their heads are not level.

Instruct your surveyors to remove the shoulders from all your roads then round up the roads from ditch to ditch in a proper manner and keep them rounded up and I will guarantee you will have better roads for one half of the expense it costs to keep them repaired with shoulders up and down hill in repair. Try it, prove it.

Taxes! Taxes!! Our taxes are too high in the State of Maine. They are unreasonably, unnecessarily and foolishly too high. Well, what are we going to do about it? We don't expect to do anything as long as the same men or kind of men manage and control the affairs of the State that have run the finances of the State for the past number of years. They have got the power and they are bound to use it to manage the affairs to their own notion. It is out of the question to reform them.
Every time there is a new office asked for they grant it, to give one of their friends a good salary. We have too many men in office now drawing salaries, and many of their salaries are too high.
We want the salaries cut down and lots of the offices abolished.

You want to do away with the Grand Jury, they are a burden but a big burden of cost to the State. They are no good or benefit to the County or to the criminal. Take your man right before the court and give him a hearing at once without delay.

Abolish the office of trial jurors and let all cases be tried by the judge. He ought to be better qualified than jurymen to decide cases, and save a big bill of cost to the State. You don't want any juries. The State is better off without them. Do away with your juries, and you wouldn't need so many sheriffs and officers hanging about the courts, etc.

Tax payers and voters of the State of Maine, it is for you to say whether you want to have a new constitution or not. The power is in the ballot. The farmers are taxed the heaviest, and the farmers of Maine can control the election if they will unite and vote together.

Now the way to do is to form a new party or join right in with the leading party and select men for office whom you can depend on. Have them pledge themselves to go in for such measures as will reduce your taxes, and such measures as you ask for by petition. It is not right to compel the poor farmers of Maine to pay such high taxes to support a lot of greedy office-holders. You farmers and laboring men of Maine, take hold and work together and unite on candidates for office for your next legislature.

When there is a vacancy in an office and twelve candidates want it, it is good evidence that the salary is too high.
That occurred in our last election, and it occurs often. It is good proof that the pay is what they are after.

Strength and Endurance
Are factors of the greatest success.
No person can do full justice to himself without them.
In no season of the year are they more easily exhausted than in the spring.
We need not discuss the reason for this here.
It's enough to say there is one, and that Hood's Sarsaparilla gives strength and endurance, as thousands annually testify.

WILSON'S MILLS.
H. W. Fickett is finishing some rooms for R. H. Storey.

The rear of the B. M. Co.'s drive went past here, Tuesday May 13th.

Charles Vallance, clerk of the Parma-chenee Club, was down, recently.

Mrs. John Legere is still confined to her bed. She does not gain as fast as her friends wish she might.

Ansel Paine, who lately bought a place of Abel Eaton, has moved in. All are glad to have him here, as he is a fine man.

called on some of her neighbors who are sick and lame. As Mrs. Hatch is in poor health she does not go from home very often.

Mrs. Betram Macomber of Conway has been visiting her father, W. E. Easton, and her brother, Abel; also her brother Edwin and wife of Freedom were there part of the week.

Very cold on Friday and Saturday, the 9th and 10th. On Friday night it froze the lilac bushes so all the kind they cannot blossom, and froze the apple blossom buds quite badly, and all green things that were growing.

Mr. Brown, who moved here from Salem, Mass., in the spring, has a new horse and carriage. It came from the city, last week. Also David Putnam of the presence of a few friends of the held in the schoolhouse, Saturday night, May 10, for the purpose of organizing a Village Improvement Society. A subcommittee was chosen to arrange matters, and another meeting was held last Friday night.

A Shooting Affair.
Another shooting affair at Webb's Mills. This time Leland Wilson shot himself in the hand. A physician was called and the wound dressed. I think it high time that revolvers were kept out of children's way.

her house repaired.

served in this village with a public dinner and exercises in the church.

The weather has been very cold and ice formed $\frac{1}{2}$ inch thick Friday night and house plants that had been set out of doors were frozen.

It has been so cold and backward, that farmers have not done much planting.
Grass is looking fine. Apple, pear, and peach and plum trees are budding full, and everything bids fair for a good harvest.

NORTH LOVELL.
Levi Batters was in this place selling nursery stock, last week.

Rather dry and dusty roads at present.

Mrs. J. E. Jordan, and three children are making her a visit. Mr. Jordan came with them but returned the next day. He will come later and finish his visit.

Sure of His Wife.
"Pooh," said one man in the horsecar, as a pair of business men were on their way down town, "my wife is the most methodical, careful, neat woman you ever saw. It is all nonsense for a woman to let a house run into disorderly ways. You ought to see how my wife does things."

"Well, of course, that is all very well in theory," responded another; "but the best housekeeper gets behind, or something, sometimes."

"My wife never does. She is always the same. She keeps everything in first-class shape."

"She must be a remarkable person," said another man. "How long have you been married?"

"Ten years." And she never disappointed him. Why? gentlemen, she always puts everything in the same place, and you know just where to find what you are after. For instance, I'm morning my handkerchief drawer, this morning before daylight, and I get a handkerchief and put it in my pocket before starting out, and I know just as well as I know my own name that that handkerchief is just such a size and has my initials worked in silk in this corner."

"A little bit of good man put his hand in his pocket and pulled out—and unfolded —a white night-cap, with long strings dangling from it!"

Potato Culture.
The certainty that Maine is to be the great potato growing section of the country, coupled with the fact of profit secured by the growers here, suggests the importance of looking sharply after purity and quality of seed and the use of agents as insecticides which can be used in any stage of the leaf or plant while promoting growth and development. The many careful experiments carried forward by intelligent farmers last year with Bug Death brought such uniform results that their conclusion may well be accepted.
These show without question that Bug Death kills the slugs, feeds the plants, insures growth and development of the leaves until fully ripe, increases the yield materially as compared with all other agents and beyond this insures that superior quality of product so desired by every grower. It thus becomes the cheapest insecticide on the market, not in first cost but in cash value of the crop insured. Every man who seeks to grow potatoes wants all he can get and of the best quality and these can be obtained by the use of Bug Death. See ad in another column.

And now there is a prospect of more business for Rumford Falls. A prominent wool manufacturer of New York has been in town looking over the woolen mill with the view of starting it up and it is not improbable that the mill will soon be running again.
